It's Friday, it must be time for the Biscuit...

Now it's the other pier POSTED 4 DAYS AGO

Brighton's other pier, the Palace Pier, has now suffered it's own disaster, catching fire in a rather big way.

Sad as it is, I haven't got quite as much sympathy with the Palace Pier as I do with the West Pier. The Palace Pier is nowhere near as old, and is really a glorified amusement arcade and funfair.

The Noble Organisation, which runs the Palace Pier, has drastically delayed any work on the West Pier by complaining to the European Commission about plans to use £14.2 million of Lotto money to renovate the West Pier. The commission ruled against Noble – a decision which is now being appealed in the European Courts. As a result, the Lotto money has been sitting in the bank since

Music: Tanto Tempo

Bebel Gilberto's "Tanto Tempo" is very mellow and relaxing Latin jazzy-like music. This is great music for a quiet evening at home with that someone. Here's a sample: So nice (mp3, 3mb).

Seattle Bumper Stickers

For some reason I read many bumper stickers here in Seattle. Perhaps it's because I walk to work past cars stuck in traffic and lights. I think bumper sticker writers are some of the cleverest people. My guess is that they are under-achievers. It's quick and easy to write a bumper sticker whereas a book requires more effort. Anyway, I've been jotting some of the better ones down to share with you, the EdgeCurve readers.

"Real eyes realize real lies."
 "Lord, please save us from your followers."
 "The gene pool could use a little chlorine."
 "All generalizations are false."
 "Change is inevitable, except from a vending machine."
 "Time is what keeps everything from happening at once."
 "Conserve toilet paper, use both sides."
 "REHAB is for quitters!"
 "Smoking cures ham."
 "Sometimes I wake up grumpy; Other times I let her sleep"
 "If you don't like the news, go out and make some."
 "I took an IQ test and the results were negative."
 "Learn from your parents mistakes - use birth control."
 "Visualize whirled peas."

Did you know that on this day in 1985 founder Steve Wozniak left Apple Computer? It's true. Did you know that on this day in 1935 the board game Monopoly first went on sale?
