

VoicePrint

News & Information... Heard Across Canada

VoicePrint is a free 24-hour news and information audio service.

Every day, volunteers record full-length articles, columns and feature reports related to news and sports, health, entertainment, science and more. Content is selected from more than 100 Canadian newspapers and magazines.

VoicePrint is delivered via satellite and cable to 8.3 million homes throughout Canada. It is also delivered via internet - right here on this web page!

VoicePrint is Canada's 24-hour audio newsstand.

About VoicePrint

News & Information...Heard Across Canada

The flagship service of N.B.R.S.(National Broadcast Reading Service), VoicePrint has been broadcasting 24 hours a day since December 1, 1990.

Most of each program day consists of verbatim readings of newspaper and magazine articles packaged into topical program segments. The National Report – today's headline new stories – airs Monday to Friday at 9:00 ET. Business, sports, health and science, lifestyles and leisure, regional news and old time radio shows are some of the other topics included in the program line up. Programming in the national service is recorded at Toronto, Ottawa, Winnipeg, Calgary and Vancouver.

While VoicePrint's core target audience are blind or vision-impaired Canadians, more than 500,000 Canadians from all walks of life cite VoicePrint as their main source of news and information.
